

Steve Ballmer

Steve Ballmer served as CEO of Microsoft from 2000 to 2014, leading the company through a period of immense growth and transformation. Under his leadership, Microsoft diversified its offerings, entered the cloud computing space with Azure, and strengthened its position as a dominant player in the consumer and enterprise technology markets.

Steve joined Microsoft in 1980 as employee No. 30 and the company's first business manager. Throughout his tenure, Steve was known for his dynamic leadership style and intense passion for the company.

After stepping down as CEO, Steve shifted his focus toward philanthropy and sports. In 2014, he purchased the Los Angeles Clippers. He established the Ballmer Group in 2015 and has contributed millions of dollars to address systemic challenges in education, housing, health, and employment. He also founded USAFacts, a nonpartisan nonprofit that promotes transparency and accountability in government.
